

INVESTORS IN PEOPLE SEMINARS 2010/11

INVESTORS
IN PEOPLE | South
West

Maximising the Value of Investors in People

Who should attend:

The workshop is designed for internal Investors In People Champions, business leaders and anyone who wants to find out about how you can obtain even more value out of your approach to Investors in People and use your assessment or review to get some real and tangible benefits.

Event content:

The workshop will help to ensure that you are able to:

- Understand how your organisation can best prepare itself to get the most out of an Investors in People assessment or review.
- See how the assessment or review can support your organisation in meeting its objectives.
- Benefit from sharing examples of good practice in managing and developing people.
- Help your organisation maximise the benefits of being an Investor in People.

An Employer Representative will be available to offer their experiences and share their insights.

Topics covered:

- A reminder of the basic principles surrounding Investors in People, and the benefits of using the Standard to continually improve performance.
- Options and choices for how the process is used.
- Some examples of how other organisations have maximised the value from their assessments and reviews.
- Exploring how you might link your assessment or review to your business priorities.
- Walking through the cycle of assessment and review so you can get the most from the process.
- Looking at support and helpful tools that will help you throughout the cycle.

Pre-requisites:

It is expected that delegates will be familiar with the Investors in People Standard.

Preparation:

Delegates are asked to give some thought to what their key business issues are at the moment – what would you like to achieve or get better at as an organisation? It may also be useful to gather the thoughts of senior colleagues to help involve them and gain their commitment to the process.
